

Student awardees at Aquaculture 2022 in San Diego, CA – Dr. Aaron Watson, past Vice President

Laura Wiltsee with advisor Dr. Matthew Gray. Laura won First Place in the Poster competition for their work titled “Determining long-term synchronized feeding and respiration rates in eastern oysters Crassostrea virginica using a coupled flow through system”.

Evan Jones, who won Second Place in the Poster competition for their work titled “Production of a monoclonal antibody against sablefish Anoplopoma fimbria IGM and its use in an ELISA to measure circulating antibodies”.

Erika Thalman won the Sea Grant Best Presentation award for their talk on “Long-line culture of red seaweed in the Pacific Northwest”.

Shraddha Hegde (center) with advisor Dr. Ganesh Kumar (right) and current supervisor Dr. Jonathan van Senten (left). Shraddha won First Place in the Presentation competition for their talk titled “Technological progress in the U.S. catfish industry”.

Yuzo Yanagitsuru with lab. Yuzo won Second Place in the Presentation competition for their presentation titled “Effects of temperature and salinity on cardiac function and osmoregulation in the threatened longfin smelt (Spirinchus thaleichthys)”.